CHAIN OF EVIDENCE.

Officer Thomasson Discovers an Interesting Clue.

Bullet That Killed Gov. Goebel Found Imbedded in an Ash Tree.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 13.—On the first day that they were given free access to the State Capitol grounds, within which Gov. Goebel was shot down by an assassin, the police officials of Frankfort discovered an important clue in the case, a silent witness to the bloody deed. This witness is a large tree, the trunk of which, it is believed, received the assassin's bullet after it passed through Goebel's body.

The clue, which is considered of more importance than any yet discovered, was found by Officer Zach T. Thomasson, one of the most capable of the local officials. If it is the bullet fired by the assassin, it establishes as a fact the general belief that the man who fired it stood within the office of the Secretary of State, on the first floor of the Executive building, and at a point within twenty-five yards of the door of the office in which Mr. Taylor sat at the time of the shooting. Measurements by a surveyor, made under direction of Commonwealth's Attorney Franklin, from the base of the tree, where the bullet entered, to a window in the west end of that building, lower floor, front, proved the angle to be perfect, and a wire line stretched between the two points showed that a man standing at the spot where Goebel fell, and going in the direction in which he was moving at the time he was shot, would have been struck by a bullet in the same spot where he was hit, and that the bullet would have taken the same course through the body.

The tree in which the bullet was found stands on the western side of the legislative building, less than thirty feet from the front entrance to the grounds. A block of wood several inches square containing the leaden missile was cut from the tree, and, without the removal of the bullet from it, was turned over to Commonwealth's Attorney Franklin. He sealed it up and laid it away to await the arrest of the conspirators, which, from present indications, will be made within two weeks.

Officer Thomasson, who discovered the lodging place of the bullet, is one of the best marksmen in the State. He was on duty near the Statehouse on the day of the shooting and helped to carry Gov. Goebel to the Capital Hotel from the spot where he fell. Going to that spot yesterday afternoon he placed himself in the position in which Goebel stood and placed a stick across his chest at the same distance from the ground as where the bullet entered Goebel's body. One end of the stick pointed directly to the window above mentioned in the executive building. The other end pointed toward a tree in the western side of the yard. "From where I stood," said he, "I could see the torn spot at the base of the tree where the bullet entered. I believe that bullet passed through Gov. Goebel's body."

ROBBED THE SAFE.

Alleged Thief Behind the Hopkins County Bars.

The safe in the depot at Nortonville was robbed of $40 a few days ago. A valise from the baggage room was also taken at the same time. Will Johnson, col., who had bought a ticket for this city was suspected, but he got aboard the train and came as far as Crofton, when he was taken into custody by an officer of that place, who had been notified by wire to look out for the negro. The valise and all but ten cents of the cash was recovered. Johnson was taken to Madisonville and locked up.

TWO INJUNCTIONS.

Beckham and Taylor Seeking to Enjoin Each Other.

Beckham Sues in Franklin Circuit Court and Taylor's Suit Brought in Louisville.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 14.—Democratic attorneys this afternoon filed a petition in the Franklin Circuit Court to enjoin William S. Taylor and John Marshall from performing any of the duties of Governor and Lieutenant Governor of Kentucky. The petition was filed by Judge Pryor and Messrs. Kohn, McQuown, Scott and Hendrick. On Friday a motion will be made before Judge Cantrill, at Georgetown, asking that the two Republican claimants be enjoined.

Shortly after the petition was filed a notice was made out and placed in the hands of Sheriff Suter, to be served on Messrs. Taylor and Marshall. Sheriff Suter went to the office of Mr. Taylor in the Executive building, but found the door locked. Later in the afternoon he found Mr. Taylor at his home, and there served the notice of suit. Mr. Marshall was not in Frankfort to-day, having got wind of the suit, so no service could be had on him. The notice will probably be served on him in Louisville to-morrow, or in Frankfort if he comes to open the rump session of the Senate.

Louisville, Ky., Feb. 15.—A petition was filed in the Jefferson Circuit Court Clerk's office yesterday afternoon at 12:16 o'clock by W. S. Taylor, through his attorneys, asking for an injunction to restrain Gov. J. C. W. Beckham from attempting to perform any of the functions of the office of Governor of Kentucky, and Gen. John B. Castleman from attempting to perform any of the duties of Adjutant General.

In filing the petition, Mr. J. P. Helm, one of Taylor's attorneys, was very particular to have the exact minute of filing noted.

The only other attempt taken in the case yesterday was the serving of a summons on Gov. Beckham at Seelbach's Hotel by Deputy Sheriff Edward Walters. Gen. Castleman was not in his office when the Sheriff was there, and the summons will not be served on him until to-day.

The failure of the Republican attorneys immediately after filing the petition to go before one of the Circuit judges and ask for a temporary restraining order gave rise to considerable comment, and the general impression was that in filing the suit the Republicans had no present idea of fully prosecuting it, but did so to forestall the filing of any similar suit in Judge Cantrill's court in Franklin county, and also to put off as far as possible the final and certain day of reckoning.

The Democrats having filed like injunction suits against Mr. Taylor and Mr. Marshall in the Franklin Circuit Court after the filing of the Republican suit here, the first question that would arise would be the one of jurisdiction—whether it lay in the Jefferson Circuit Court or the Franklin Circuit Court. This would determine which suit could be tried.

The Republican attorneys not having applied to any Judge for a temporary restraining order, the allotting of the case to any particular division will await the next drawing to be held by Circuit Clerk John H. Page. This may be done to-day.
